Christoph, Senior Simulation Consultant

SIMUL8

Who are we? What do we do?

Simul8 is the fastest, most intuitive and effective simulation software on the market. Every day our users make rapid, confident decisions using our software. From saving millions in manufacturing costs, to transforming lives by improving healthcare delivery, organizations in every industry are driving transformative changes with Simul8.

What will you do?

At Simul8, ensuring organizations can use our software to help drive everyday decision making is our top priority. As Simulation Consultant, you'll be responsible for ensuring their success by:

- Applying business modeling and related process improvement skills in consulting projects to help customers make fast, informed decisions with Simul8.
- Maintaining first class levels of customer service when delivering training sessions to small groups and individuals around the globe.
- Gathering insight and feedback from customers to help us develop truly user-focused software.
- Identifying commercial opportunities when working with customers and connecting them to relevant teams within the company.

Who we're looking for

- 2-5 years relevant experience and at least a 2.1 degree in a relevant discipline.
- Incredible customer focus with a natural desire to help people as quickly and effectively as possible.
- Excellent written, verbal and organization skills.
- A strong commercial aptitude and effective self starter.
- Good technical ability and experience in using analytical software, ideally Simul8.
- Project management skills and ability to handle multiple projects.
- Be as comfortable discussing complex technical details with a room full of engineers as you are briefing an executive audience.
- Willing and able to travel worldwide to work with clients, most trips 1-2 weeks but occasionally longer.

What we offer

With the potential to make a genuine impact on the company's future success, there is huge scope for your personal development and rapid progression. We're a vibrant and innovative company with lots of interaction between teams. This enables everyone to grow to their strengths and gain great exposure across all aspects of the business. We also offer:

- Competitive salary DOE, plus bonus package.
- 31 days holiday a year - increases to 33 days after 3 years of service.
- Family friendly environment including childcare voucher scheme.
- Autonomy in your work combined with a remote & flexible working environment.
- Commitment to your personal training and development, both technical and soft skills.
- Company pension scheme.
- Opportunities for worldwide travel.

We have nurtured a family feel within the Simul8 team and we also like to balance our hard work with time to unplug and make time for ourselves and our loved ones. We do everything we can to make work a pleasure such as providing a budget for your home office set up, a city centre hub for collaborating, regular social events and opportunities to develop your career and learn new skills.
